S.S.F. Hopes To Expedite An Overpass

The South San Francisco city council authorized City Manager Gene Aiello to arrange a meeting with South San Francisco school officials and representatives of the California Highway Commission to expedite plans for the proposed pedestrian overpass at the intersection of Junipero Serra Boulevard and Clay Avenue.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli reported that an estimate from the highway department indicates the project will cost approximately $75,000.

The city has agreed to pay half the construction cost for the overpass.

Robert Reid, father of six-year-old Linda Reid, who became the latest traffic fatality at the intersection last October, was present at the meeting and urged councilmen to set an early date to expedite the matter.

South San Francisco Councilmen Monday adopted a resolution authorizing contractors on the Stonegate Ridge Subdivision development to install conduits for community television antennae.

The resolution came at the request of a Dan Coleman and Associates representative, who said it would be "almost impossible" to install the conduits at a later date, without interfering with other utility lines.

A provision to purchase the conduits will be included in the city's franchise agreement with any future CATV company in the area.

Allowing the conduit installation will add approximately $16,000 in assessments on the subdivision.

Another resolution increasing assessments on the Stonegate Ridge project was also adopted. Councilmen authorized an increase of approximately $40,000 for installation of traffic signals, additional paving and an additional quantity of base material for the streets.

A resolution authorizing the sale of $40,300 in bonds on the Stonegate Ridge development to Schwabacker and Company was also adopted. The firm's bid was the most advantageous of three entered, and set an interest rate of approximately 5.1 per cent.

A second reading and final adoption of an ordinance amending the city's ordinance regulating construction of greenhouses was held at the meeting.

Salada Lets School Bid

By DON GRIERSON

Laguna Salada Union School District trustees awarded the contract for "phase II" construction of the new Crespi School to Roberts Pacific Company of San Mateo.

The firm's bid of $660,922 was the lowest of eight received on the new school.

The bid was approximately $90,000 below the maximum figure allowable for the project, and will eliminate the need to consider alternatives for cheaper materials included in the specifications, Superintendent Frederick Lucas said.

In other action on the Crespi School project, the board approved a 43-calendar day extension on "phase one" construction on the recommendation of district architect Harold Crosby.

Construction on the first phase, which consists of site preparation, has been delayed by rains, holdups in drainage pipe delivery, and a miscalculation in selection of the key location.

The approved time extension changes the scheduled completion date on phase I construction from December 22, 1966, to February 3, 1967.

Lucas said it is still hoped the school will be completed in time for the beginning of the 1967-68 school year. The project was delayed more than a year by court litigation over the site purchase.

The district architect presented plans for the new Park Pacifica School to be located on Oddstad Boulevard at the meeting. Park Pacifica School is similar to the Crespi School in many respects, and will accommodate 550 students.

Crosby said plans and specifications on the project will be ready for submission to the state division of architecture sometime next week.

Estimated cost of Park Pacifica School is $670,000. It is expected to be completed in the early part of 1968.

In other business Tuesday night, the board adopted a resolution of intention to "dedicate" to the city of Pacifica portions of the Linda Mar School site for a public street.

The street in front of the school has been owned by the school district and property owners in the area since the school was constructed. The city and private property owners north of the school site have recently improved the street, and it now meets standard requirements.

A summary of the district's Head Start program was given at the meeting, and it was noted that the San Mateo County Human Resources Commission has informed the district the Laguna Salada program last summer was rated the outstanding program in San Mateo County and one of the outstanding programs in the western states.

'Peace on the Coastside'

Inspirational scenery is relatively commonplace in the North Peninsula area; yet, Post photographer Howard Frankhouse captured this extraordinary, natural portrayal of serenity and the "Peace on Earth" tidings of the Christmas season. The scene emphasizes rugged coast of Pacifica's Pedro Point as, for a blissful moment, the elements of sun, storm, and sea pose in striking solitude.

Pre-School Class Aide Is Sought

Rec Teacher In Pacifica

Pacific's Park, Beach and Recreation Department is looking for someone to teach pre-school classes.

The job would involve about 15 to 20 hours per week. Individual classes are held for two hours, once a week for a ten-week period.

A new session is started after each ten-week block.

Anyone having an education background or experience in working with tots is encouraged to apply. Applications may be obtained from the Park, Beach and Recreation Department, 170 Santa Maria Ave., Pacifica or by calling 355-4151, Ext. 40.

Applications will be accepted until January 2. Ginny Silva, recreation supervisor, has details.

The department's Spring Program Guide will be coming out through the elementary schools in Pacifica during the first weeks of January.

The guide will include all programs and activities being conducted by the department during spring months.

Some of the programs will include children's arts and crafts class, ballet, teen and J-teen activities, sports leagues for boys, men's basketball and softball leagues, women's softball league, pre-school and the aquatics program.

Underground Utility Lines?

San Bruno councilmen have introduced an ordinance which, if adopted, will provide that all utility lines in future subdivisions in the city be placed underground.

The ordinance will not affect developments already in existence. A second reading of the proposed ordinance will be held at the next regular council meeting.

In other business Monday, the council adopted two resolutions establishing traffic control on

Pacifica Will Petition For Signal Lights

'Dangerous Intersection'

Pacificans will urge state highway officials to speed up action on their bid for installation of signal lights at the Rockaway Beach Avenue and Coast Highway intersection, scene of a recent fatal and several injury and property damage accidents.

City councilmen Wednesday learned the state division of highways anticipates it probably will be able to budget funds for the signal project in the 1968-69 budget.

A review of the speed limit conditions would be made soon, however, a communication from the state agency pointed out.

A reduction of the speed limit in the vicinity of the intersection also has been urged by city officials, who have decided to have its works department push the project to higherups in Sacramento, via district officials in this area.

All information that has been collected over the past several weeks, regarding the city's request for action on the intersection will be lumped together for this purpose.

To be included in the packet will be a letter from the Laguna Salada School District and petitions from the Rockaway Beach Progressive Club citing the hazards to auto and pedestrian traffic alike and urging action.

In Pacifica Sites For Complex Narrowed

A committee appointed to study proposals for a civic center site in Pacifica has narrowed its recommendations to two locations, a report submitted to the council revealed this week.

The two sites named in the report are the Rockaway Quarry site at Mori's Point and the present location of the city hall.

Albert Haven, chairman of the committee, which was appointed in 1965 after an earlier committee failed to present a recommendation, said members were evenly divided in their preference between the two sites.

The original list of possible sites contained 13 proposals, including the two recommended.

Among the proposed sites were the Fairway Park School property, two locations in Vallejo, the Royce property on Sea Bowl Road and property on Hilton Circle.

Committee members agree the Mori's Point site offers the best long-range solution, Haven said, and it has the advantages of attractive natural features and a view and is near the freeway and the city's population center.

The site also has no existing structures to be removed, and the estimated cost of acquisition is considerably lower than that of land around the present city hall site.

Also, developing the Mori's Point site as a civic center would not take previously developed property off city tax rolls, as would the other proposals.

But utilization of the present city hall area would serve better as an immediate solution to the problem, the committee feels, because expansion could be a more or less gradual process. (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

February 4 Date Stated

Representative teen-agers from Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools have been exploring community problems with adults of Daly City and surrounding areas to form plans for a Town Hall meeting February 4.

The session is to be at Jefferson High School.

Edward Cereghino, Jefferson's assistant principal for administration and former student activities director, is chairman, with Mrs. Richard Powell coordinating.

"Delinquency Fallout — 8 to 80" is to be its slogan.

The Town Hall planning committee, including parents, clergymen, police, and social agency workers, as well as students, has been meeting regularly to plan workshops for the meeting.

Mrs. Powell said planning sessions have been fruitful in stimulating dialogues between adult and youth committee members.

"These dialogues are starting lines of communication, as well (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Slim Okeh for New All-Bay Government

As approved by a scant majority of delegates present, and if confirmed in that form by the Legislature, ABAG will have 100 members in its basic General Assembly. It will have a 34-member Executive Committee, with ten of its members chosen by San Francisco, Oakland, and San Jose.

Its duties will include regional planning, regional refuse disposal, regional airports, regional parks and open spaces. It will have the powers of owning and acquiring property, by eminent domain if deemed necessary; the power to obtain funds by issuing bonds backed by all property in the nine Bay Area counties; and the power to assess each of these counties for an amount equal to $.01 per $100 of assessed valuation, for operating costs.

ABAG would be limited in its functions to those specified by the Legislature, would be forbidden from taking over the functions of smaller governmental agencies, would be unable to override protests to eminent domain proceedings except by an overwhelming vote of its members.

Those members would be empowered to pay ABAG's officers and Executive Committee members, should they decide to later.

Those members would include one city councilman from each of the 91 cities involved, and one county supervisor from each of the nine counties. They would meet quarterly.

The 34-member executive committee would include five San Francisco, two appointed by the mayor, two by the supervisors, and the fifth to be alternately chosen by the mayor and supervisors.

Alameda County would have seven members, two chosen by the board of supervisors, two by a Conference of Mayors, three by the Oakland City Council.

Santa Clara County would have six members, two chosen by the board of supervisors, two by the San Jose City Council, two by a conference of mayors.

as being "eye-openers," she said, adding her "hopes" that "such meaningful discussion will spill over into the workshop discussion on Town Meeting Day, and interested people, both young and old, will realize the complexity of the delinquency problem."

"Chuck" Vincent of the Daly City Recreation Department, in charge of registration, has asked community groups to pre-register by January 28, by contacting the Daly City Recreation Department at 144 Hillside Boulevard.

Representing the teen-agers will be Jefferson students Judy Broda, Laura Johnson, Mado Stuart and Joe Torrez, Student Body president. From Westmoor the group includes Karn Duncan, Cathy Meade and Rich Esposito, Study Body president.

Police department representatives will include Chief Lillard Dyer of Brisbane; Lt. Phil La Bruzzo of Daly City; and Chief Ray Savage of Broadmoor.

Clergymen to be included are Dr. Hanzel Stenbridge, Ministerial Association representative and pastor of Westlake Community Baptist Church, and Father David Walsh, Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

City officials Edward Dennis, councilman, and Charles Vincent, Daly City Recreation Department, are also active on the Town Hall Meeting Planning Committee.

Other representatives from social agencies and interested groups functioning in the area include Mrs. Leo Lewis, Westmoor P-TA; Dr. Werner Berg, North County Mental Health; Mrs. Marianna Linard, Youth Opportunity Center; and Mrs. Catherine Smallwood, C.I.T.Y.

Jeff Tackles Pilot Project

By WILL THOMAS

Involvement in a pilot program that hopefully would train San Mateo County welfare recipients for "self-sustaining" jobs gained a Jefferson High School District trustee green light Monday.

San Mateo County is one of three selected in California to trial-run the Job Training Pilot Project.

Sites For Center Are Narrowed

ess and would not necessitate a single large appropriation of funds.

The city hall is somewhat north of the city's population center, however, and the neighborhood (mixed business and residential) is appropriate for a civic center.

Haven said members of the study committee "have been somewhat confused" about whether their purpose was to select a long-range proposal or "a solution to meet the city's immediate needs."

In the final report, committee members suggested the council appoint another committee to study methods of financing the project, or that councilmen make the study themselves.

Jefferson High District will offer building maintenance and sanitation under the jurisdiction of the Adult Education Division.

Chief custodians in the school district would teach the training classes. Certification for certain types of job classifications, specialties and areas of "unusual competence" is unnecessary, administrators pointed out.

The over-all program for welfare recipients is to be under administration of the County Welfare Department, in close conjunction with the State Department of Employment and the participating educational institutions.

Jefferson conducted a similar program, but with federal financing, last year, and Thomas A. Redmond, Adult Education principal, said San Mateo County (along with Alameda and Santa Clara counties) was selected to conduct the pilot program because of past "successful efforts."

Three classrooms are available in the local district at Thornton High School, Redmond said, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. daily.

Supplies and materials would be obtained from the County Welfare Department, while all monies for the program will be furnished from unallocated funds in the Demonstration Cities Budget of the State Department of Welfare.

"Should these demonstration projects prove successful," Redmond asserted, "it is expected that an extensive statewide program then will be undertaken."

He pointed to such "successful" out-of-state projects as those of Cook County, Ill., and New York City.

"In both instances," declared Redmond, "these programs have boosted the moral of the people on welfare and have recovered a considerable amount of monies now being expended on welfare."

Deadline for start of the project in the district is February, 1967.

"Much work must be done in preparation for such a program. It should be underway now," Redmond pointed out.

Teachers' Extra Pay Is Studied

Teacher organizations are continuing to study what they call inequities in added payment of certain personnel for extra work in the Jefferson High School District.

One of the groups, the Jefferson District Federation of Teachers, Local 1481 of the American Federation of Teachers, this week submitted a resolution on the subject to Jeff High trustees.

It sees the problem in part as that of dividing extra work into teacher preparation for teacher assignment and teacher supervision of extracurricular activities, and suggests teacher preparation problems could be solved by released time, clerical help, teacher aids and maximum class sizes. Extracurricular supervision complexities it states, could be solved by paying volunteer teachers at the current hourly rate.

The resolution urges: —The district establish a formula based on enrollment for each school to finance the program;

—Each teacher or group of teachers will submit a program with specific goals including the number of hours required to meet their objectives at each school;

—Students should have the right to petition for an activity of their choice;

—The principal and an elected teacher from each department will accept, reject or alter the proposed programs for the year at a meeting all faculty members could attend;

—Teachers should have the right to appeal the decision of this committee to superintendent and board trustees;

—Each advisor would submit a written report to the principal and committee members for evaluation at the end of the year;

—All extra supervisory duties would be on a volunteer basis at the current hourly compensation, where non-certificated personnel cannot be found to supervise.

A recent newsletter published by JDFT claimed, "Clearly, supervision of extra curricular activities is extra work and deserves extra pay."

"But, the teacher who spends extra time preparing for his assignments believes that he should receive extra pay also."

"This is the dilemma where the extra pay question started and still remains unanswered. How can you pay for teacher preparation without a separate salary schedule for each department?"

Youth In Government Dates Set

Annual Daly City Youth in Government program activities have been scheduled tentatively for February 6 to 20, Jefferson High School District trustees were reminded Monday night by City Manager Ed Frank.

The board was invited to add the joint chamber of commerce-city council luncheon on February 9 and youth council session on February 20 to its calendars.

Three "councilmen" will be from Westmoor, two from Jefferson High.

Jefferson students will occupy positions of city clerk, city manager, finance director, fire chief and city librarian.

Westmoor pupils will be seated as city treasurer, city attorney, city engineer, police chief, and recreation director.

'Ho-Ho-Ho,

Nell Norton

"Ho-ho-ho," and all that sort of thing. It won't be long until Santa comes down the chimney. (I hope you remember to vacuum the chimney this week.) I'm sure that by now you are all finished with your shopping and wrapping and are just sitting around in perfect calm, waiting for the great day to arrive. "Ho-ho-ho!"

Christmas would be a perfect time to make and serve the famous Red Velvet Cake. This recipe came to me from Mrs. Rena Noero, of 23 Westdale Avenue, Daly City. It first appeared in the column about three years ago and since then I've had many requests for the recipe. So as a Christmas offering to you good cooks I'll repeat it in today's column.

RENA sent me the story of the velvet cake along with the recipe and I'll let her tell you about it herself:

"The story behind this red velvet cake is both interesting and expensive. It seems that a woman from Seattle was dining at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York and was deeply impressed with the cake served to her one evening. It looked like red velvet with a beautiful frosting.

"She asked the hotel people if they would send her the recipe. They did, but it arrived COD with a charge of $300. She paid the cost and then consulted a lawyer who told her she could do nothing to get her money back. Since the price of the recipe had been so costly to her, she decided all her friends should enjoy baking and eating this luscious and extravagant "Red Velvet Cake."

RED VELVET CAKE

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons cocoa
- 2 ounces red food coloring (that's right, that's two one ounce bottles)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar
- 1 teaspoon soda, level

Cream 1/2-cup shortening, add 1 1/2-cups sugar and eggs. Beat well. Make a paste with the 2-teaspoons cocoa and 2 bottles of food coloring and pour into creamed mixture. Blend. Combine 1-teaspoon salt and 1-teaspoon vanilla with the cup of buttermilk and add alternately with the 2 1/2 cups of sifted flour to the creamed mixture.

Next mix the 1 1/2 teaspoons of vinegar and 1 teaspoon of soda and add to the mixture. FOLD IN, DO NOT BEAT.

Bake in 2 greased and floured 9-inch pans in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Or until cakes spring back when lightly touched with finger.

FROSTING

- 5 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook the five tablespoons of flour and one cup of milk until thick, stirring constantly. Let cool until cold. Cream together the 1-cup of sugar, 1-cup of butter and

COMMENT

Fateful Decision
On Development

The most fateful decision in the history of San Mateo County may hinge upon the "great debate" composed of the various hearings and reviews of the Pacific Air Commerce Center's proposals to develop eight miles of shoreline in the mid-county, bayside area it has been pointed out that unreasonable opposition could result in withdrawal of the plans before they get a fair hearing.

Therefore, responsible citizens and officials of this county, those who intend to spend their lives here and are prudently thoughtful of the future to be faced by those who come after us, must make certain that this debate is conducted soberly and fairly. They should reserve judgment until all the facts are in and they should not permit, nor indulge in, actions or accusations that could result in a withdrawal of the opportunity being presented to the county.

Moreover, all persons concerned should keep in mind that the plans for development of the bayfront are not in final form and that PACC is proposing a continuing process of agreement between business and government. The president of PACC has made it clear that there is not yet a definite development plan and that any plans growing out of the proposals will be subject to accord by all of the various governmental bodies and commissions having interest in, and jurisdiction over, bayfront development.

Conservation of the Bay as a natural resource and asset will be a major consideration, but it should be debated on a basis of true conservation. True conservation seeks to preserve, and augment or enhance, the natural resources of the people. It is not composed of emotion or hysteria, nor of nostalgia and stubborn refusal to face the realities of human need, and it is not blind resistance to change.

Whether we like it or not, the population of the Bay area is going to be more than doubled by 1990. This should be another major consideration. We need to give the most grave attention to any proposals that will help to solve the problems of the future — particularly if they will provide room for the swelling population, increase the tax base, and are designed to augment and enhance our resources and assets.

Perhaps a third major consideration lies in the fact that the PACC proposals are a free enterprise offer to risk as much as half a billion dollars in a business operation in San Mateo County. This has two facets. First, it is a most impressive pledge of faith in the future of the county and an expectation the future will bring a fair return on the investment. Second, the business aspect is, in itself, a guarantee that the ultimate development will be worthwhile and self-supporting. No such investment would be risked on anything that could displease or alienate the public.

To conclude: The Pacific Air Commerce Center is making fair proposals to San Mateo County and to the cities of Millbrae, Burlingame and San Mateo. It is offering to reach accords with all of the governmental entities representing the people. It presents opportunity to meet future needs on a planned and well-financed basis. It encompasses provision of recreational and cultural gains, open space for living, enlarged beach and aquatic access, and a high form of development of natural assets for the public good.

Such proposals deserve responsible, thoughtful and fair hearing.

Bonus

Will Thomas

WESTLAKE STAFFERS of the Leeds' Shoe store — a division of Edison Brothers Stores Inc. — are sharing this Christmas with other Edison employees in a bonus of $385,000.

Morris Levine, who has been Westlake Leed's manager for eight years and who has seen 21 years "all over" for the firm, announced that this is the 33rd straight year for the bonuses.

He said all regular staff members of the local Leed's store will receive a gift check, the amount depending on position and years of service.

Additionally, Levine said Edison Brothers also is adding about $500,000 toward the cost of its pension and welfare fund. The retirement fund since 1944 has been financed entirely by the company, Levine pointed out.

MARGARET BECKER, president of the Daly City Senior Citizens, said this week her unit is making preparations and "looking forward" to the second annual Christmas Party to be held in their Lincoln Park club-rooms at 11:30 a.m. today.

Three local area teenage dancers will be seen on TV on Christmas Eve in a full-hour color musical spectacular, "The Sound of Young America," hosted by Pat Boone. It will be seen December 24 at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7, KGO.

Susan and John Walsh and Pam Sousa, students at Westmoor High, will be seen along with about 100 Bay Area teenage musicians, singers and dancers. They are all members of the San Leandro Fine Arts Workshop and are all between the ages of 13 and 20.

Prior live performances in the Bay Area and at the Western Radio and TV Conference in San Francisco have brought standing ovations for these enthusiastic, talented entertainers.

MR. AND MRS. James Blanda have opened the Roma Delicatessen at Manor Plaza in Pacifica.

THIS IS not only the time for Good Cheer and other such season jollies, but it's also when blurb snatchers and shoplifters get busy-busy.

All over the North County there are reports of bulb losses. Daly City and Pacifica police logs are filled with them . . . and at San Bruno, they get so many they don't bother any more to keep tabs on them.

Operation Santa Claus!

MEMBERS OF the I-I staff of the Twenty-third Marines' Third Battalion of the San Bruno Training Center, join the Daly City Fire Department and the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce in its annual Operation Santa Claus project. Marine Staff Sgt. Bryan R. Johnson, Chamber Executive Secretary Peter Markovich, Fire Battalion Chief Wayne Alexander and Sgt. John Alexander take time out from unloading truck of Toys for Tots at fire station while Staff Sgt. Edward Matalavage waits patiently.

Two Hardy Pacifica School Teachers
In Kayak Surrender to Elements

Two hardy Terra Nova High School teachers finally surrendered to the elements and postponed indefinitely their kayak trip to Los Angeles after they ran into 15-foot waves off the coast of Pigeon Point.

John Bentley, 28, a band instructor, and Mike Cassidy, 27, a former paratrooper who teaches English, managed to get out to sea on their second try about 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

They rowed 30 miles south in their 17-foot rubberized craft before summoning the Coast guard for assistance about 4 p.m.

"The waves were breaking 15 and 20 feet high over a reef off Pigeon Point, and we were faced with the prospect of spending the night at sea if we continued," Bentley said.

The voyagers had planned to camp for the night in the Princeton area, but Bentley said it was impossible to beach the slim craft in the pounding surf.

After debating the matter at some length, they decided to "throw in the paddle," and sent up a flare.

A Coast Guard helicopter responded, and stood by until a commercial fishing vessel took them aboard and deposited them at Princeton.

The trip had been ill-fated from the start. During the initial launching Friday, the boat was thrown back to the beach by a crashing surf and had to be repaired before the second attempt.

Then Saturday the weather went bad again, presumably because of a large storm off the coast of Alaska.

"We gave the trip up for the time being, because the delays would have made it impossible to reach Los Angeles by Christmas," Bentley said.

The two teachers had been preparing for the trip, which was conceived over coffee during off periods at the high school, for more than a month.

Pertinent 'When?'
Still Good Today!

Samuel Chandler

For Christmas in 1925, the Atlantic Monthly published "When Will Christmas Come?" by Joseph Fort Newton. Its message is as pertinent today as then.

"Only God," he writes, "could have thought of Christmas. Its beauty is beyond the wit of mortals, so simple in its simplicity, so homey, yet so heavenly."

"On a tapestry woven of stable straw and starlight it unveils a picture to soften and purify the heart and to bring us back from a wisdom that is not wise because it is head, unholy, and unhelpful."

"Man-made pageants pass and fade, but God works in slower and more secret ways. He blows no trumpet; He rings no bell. He begins within, seeking His ends by quiet growth, and by a strange power men call weakness, a wisdom often mistaken for folly. Man has one answer to every problem—force, but that is not the way of God. He did not send an army to conquer the world; He sent a babe . . . Instead of noise and parade there was—The Crowded Inn; A Mother and a Babe; no cradle, just a manger, a man stunned by wonder, a wandering Star."

"Such wisdom bends the knee; such beauty breaks the heart — and mends it. It is a scene to sanctify the world, as if to teach us that God enters the life of man by lowly doors, attended by starry ideals and simple shepherd sentiments—the birth of Jesus, just one of the children of the year. They are wise men who bow at such a shrine, linking a far-off pilgrim star with the cradle of a little child. By such faith, men are surly wise, knowing that no hope is too high, no dream too holy to be fulfilled—even the hope and dream of peace on earth among men of good will."

"Must we admit that Christmas is only a fairy story, heart-woven and dream-spun and that the gray shadows which life casts over us all are the grim truth."

"Is it no more than a figment of fancy, tender and lovely . . . a day of make-believe tugging at our hearts, with the pull of playtime?"

"No, Christmas is both a fact and a faith; but even if it were only a brief season of goodwill, a holiday from our forgetfulness of others, or just a family festival, it would be welcome. At least it is a day of poetry in the midst of drab days of prose."

The weeks just before Christmas are traditional cookie and pie-baking days when the good cooks (also known as "Hey, Mom") hope to build up the supply of goodies for the holidays. Take Nell Norton, the Post's cookery expert, for instance, she's been baking for her family and us, too. (Post Photo)

The Marquee

Quentin
Drama

Barbara Bladen

A HANDSOME, 34-YEAR-OLD MAN, neatly dressed in a brown checkered sport coat and highly polished brown shoes walked slowly out the gate of San Quentin.

The cameras panned back down the hill as the misty fog swirled quietly up from the bay. It was 9:05 a.m. Monday and the more than 30 newsmen and photographers were huddled together inside the main gate but outside the high wall to keep warm.

The self-possessed, dark-haired young man drew long breaths of smoke from a succession of cigarettes but it was his only sign of nervousness. He turned professionally to each microphone extended toward him, paused briefly to turn back for a last look as Warden Lawrence Wilson and inmate Larry Dotson who, who had carried the boxes of neatly written manuscripts, clasped their arms around his shoulder in confidential friendliness.

He opened the door of the $22,000 1967 white Silver Dawn Rolls Royce, driven by its owner, Lee Bart, a retired local businessman, waved good-bye to his friends who joked nervously about it being "his last mile," and drove off into the grey mist.

It sounds like a movie script. But it was real life at San Quentin as Rick Cluchey, after 11 years, nine months and 14 days, in prison on an armed robbery and kidnap charge was paroled to San Francisco bearing superlative recommendations as to his character, his integrity and his honesty.

With him went the hope of hundreds of men with whom he had worked in eight years after founding the prison Drama Workshop. With him also went the hopes of every member of the Seventh Step Foundation, a non-profit corporation dedicated to establishing programs for preparing men to face the outside world. Bart is the president of the local chapter.

It was to their offices on Market Street we drove, the motorcade of friends and newsmen following behind across the bridge. In the Rolls we talked of his ambition to establish a professional theater in San Francisco for former inmates, male and female. The celebrity day continued with a sumptuous meal at the St. Francis Hotel where he telephoned his family in Chicago from the table.

THE DRAMA WE'D JUST ENACTED was so much like a movie, it was unbelievable, Rick said so, over and over. He'd wipe an occasional tear away when talking of the friends he left behind; the man who had made a friendship ring in the craft shop, the inmate who'd asked to polish his shoes, the prisoners who'd asked to inherit his cup, his shoe box.

A native of Chicago and an eighth-grade dropout, Cluchey had never been inside a theater before he founded the Workshop and spent every possible hour studying from books. The result of his work and his perception was an offer from the former Actor's Workshop to join the staff. When the group disbanded, Director Ken Kitch surely extended the invitation to the Pittsburgh Playhouse.

At the same time, Alan Mandel with whom Rick has worked when the former Actor's Workshop produced his play "Le Cage" in 1957, invited him to join the staff at Lincoln Center with Blaue and Irving. And there is the offer from the Ford Foundation for Rick to study any phase of theater he desires, at their expense. But he's committed to a job as volunteer master of ceremonies, lecturer and public relations agent for Seventh Step Foundation. And he has a lot of theater-going to catch up on.

FORD FOUNDATION has printed and distributed his three plays, "Le Cage" (16 public performances at San Quentin and a movie of it which will be viewed on KQED-TV in the spring); "Batman," a fantasy racial play, and "Wall Is Mama," to professional regional theaters and universities. Rick has already received royalties.

Although Rick was trained in prison as a certified dental technician, authorities at San Quentin recognize his proficiency and popularity as a leader, his complete rehabilitation as a citizen who has greatly helped his fellow inmates through the Drama Workshop. He'll likely help establish workshops in other prisons.

Sentenced to life, he earned parole through his good work in establishing and maintaining interest in the prison theater. A book is already begun on these experiences.

Better Business

Make Sure Gifts
Go Where Want

Lorene Beasley

This is the time of year when many clubs and civic organizations join forces with charitable organizations to help the needy and brighten their holidays. This is a very commendable gesture but, it should be remembered that when one gives to charitable organizations, it is important to see that such gifts be used for their intended purpose.

A Better Business Bureau has in its files a case in which approximately $25,000 was collected by the professional promoter hired to direct a charity event.

Of this amount, only $3,500 was actually turned over to the charity. The rest went for expenses, mainly the promoter's fee.

Magnolia Boys Town of Laurel, Miss., has in the past solicited donations by mail. The director, Rev. Henry Bucklew, also mayor of Laurel, has been indicted on a charge of false pretense involving the alleged misappropriation of a $50,000 gift for the home for homeless boys. Bucklew also operated and solicited advertising for the Southern Baptist News, a publication not recognized by the Southern Baptist Convention.

PROFESSIONAL phone solicitors are selling variety show tickets to businessmen in the San Francisco area for the benefit of a well-known medical center located in California. Initial investigation by the Better Business Bureau had disclosed that the promoter receives fifty per cent of the ticket money.

Ann Adams Holiday Cards of Jacksonville, Fla., is another charitable appeal of one dollar via unordered merchant dise, promoted by a professional mailing firm.

You are not obligated to pay for or return unordered merchandise received in the mail.

The Post Office suggests that you keep it for a reasonable time and, if not called for in person by the sender, you may dispose of it as you wish.

In this manner, by not supporting such charity promotions, you will help to discourage the unordered merchandise rackets, most of them conducted by professional firms whose cost of operation absorbs the greater portion of your donation dollar.

AGAIN this year the Better Business Bureau is giving warnings on radio, TV and in the newspapers encouraging caution. For those who are in doubt, call the Bureau.

Frank LaPierre is ill. His column will be resumed upon his return.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Here's hoping your Yule is filled with joy!

Audience At Play Will Pick Jury

One of the interesting features of "The Night of January Sixteenth" the forthcoming production of the Pacifica Players, will be selection of 12 persons to act as jurors for the exciting and popular courtroom drama.

Members of the jury will be chosen from the audience and from an invitation list mailed to members of the community. The jury plays an integral part in the play in that it actually casts a verdict for conviction or acquittal. This serves not only to affect the outcome of the play but to greatly increase interest and suspense on the part of the audience.

The play will run for three consecutive Saturday and Sunday nights at Oddstad Center, Linda Mar, beginning January 7. It features a cast of 20 and is under the direction of Charlene Amick and Gilda Forster.

Since its debut in 1935, "The Night of January Sixteenth" has played to capacity houses throughout the country. It has proved to be one of the most popular productions for both professional and little theatre groups.

2 Daly City Residences Burglarized

Two residences in Daly City were burglarized over the weekend, police reported.

Officers said the home of Ann Woodcock, 57 Mira Vista Court, was broken into sometime Sunday night. Two television sets, several pieces of jewelry and clothing were taken. The front door lock had been opened, apparently with a key.

Saturday afternoon, the home of William J. Sandoval, 510 South Hill Street, was burglarized. Three men's watches were reported missing from the residence. Police said entrance was gained through a rear basement window.

Young Men Parts Open

Parts for two young men are open for "Invitation to a March," a comedy being rehearsed by The Spindrift Playhouse in Pacifica.

"Rehearsal time will not be too demanding for these roles," assured Nathaniel Marks, director of the comedy.

"While the parts are good and solid, they do not require the characters on stage all the time. Rehearsals will be intense, however, for we intend doing full justice to every precious line and situation of this play."

4 Teens Hurt In Car Crash

Four San Francisco teen-agers were injured Sunday morning when the driver of the car they were traveling in lost control and struck a parked vehicle on South Mayfair Avenue in Daly City.

Police said the car, driven by Michael Joseph Murray, 17, was traveling west on Mayfair when the accident occurred about 10 a.m.

Murray's vehicle struck a car belonging to Sylvia Grossi of Vallejo, which was parked at the curb.

Murray and three passengers [Ronald Fernandez, 15, and Steven Solis, 16, and Victor Lopez, 15, were hurt.

Biddy Cagers

Le Pacini

If you're under the impression Little League is the world's largest organized youth activity, you're wrong. It may be the most publicized, but it doesn't reach the 5 million youngsters that the barely known biddy basketball does.

Biddy basketball was conceived in Scranton, Pa., 14 years ago by an ex-infantry lieutenant, Jay Archer, who, as its commissioner and virtually one-man organizational committee, has shunned publicity, simply because he doesn't feel it adds to the pleasure of the game for the kids.

Encouraged by various youth organizations and the State Department, Archer has not only spread biddy basketball to 2 million kids throughout the United States, but has also reached 3 million in South and Central America, Asia, and the South Pacific. And, unlike Little League, there's never been a bit of criticism.

THERE are good reasons. Biddy basketball is handled by pros. It essentially involves participation in the schools with experienced athletic supervisors administering the program. The youngsters play their league games competitively in the school, and there is a direct application of discipline and even scholastic eligibility. A youngster can be expelled from the team, in other words, if he is failing in school. Surprisingly, girls may also play the game, and in some areas there are as many little females participating as there are males.

As in Little League, the "field" and equipment is scaled down to size. The ball is smaller, the baskets are lowered from 10 to 8½ feet, the courts are divided in half, the free throw distance is 12, rather than 15 feet, and the quarters are six minutes.

Archer sees it that the game is run basically at the community level, except for the annual national tournament held in late March or early April. Last year the tournament, held in Peoria, Ill., involved eight teams representing 500 cities and 10,000 players.

Biddy basketball is a non-profit organization (Archer is not salaried) financed mainly on registration fees, with some support from the National Sporting Goods Association.

And yes, there is biddy basketball in California, although not, to the best of our knowledge in the immediate area. If we're wrong, fans, let us know about it. We'd like to see such a program started here. We have a hunch some of the win-starved local high school basketball coaches would, too.

AT THE RISK of finally having needed karate aficionados to the striking point, using our voice-box as a brick substitute, we can't resist another karate comment — mainly because our source material in this case virtually echoes what we said a couple of years ago about legislative control over the incompetents in karate.

In England recently, a Justice Glyn-Jones sentenced a karate student to life imprisonment for murder, a feat accomplished with seven blows which produced six fractured ribs, two liver ruptures, two voice box fractures, and "considerable bruising of the lung."

In rendering his decision, Justice Glyn-Jones suggested, according to a recent article in the London Sunday Times, that the community might benefit from the banning of karate.

Immediately the Conservatives began pressing for an official inquiry on a "sport" which has grown in two years from 30 karate clubs to nearly 150 with memberships totaling over 10,000.

In our original series of columns (which later grew into a magazine article for another publication) we emphasized the points that karate is more a philosophy than a sport, that not just anybody should be able to learn it, and that those who did should be instructed by competent men. Following is a quote from The Times article from Len Palmer, head of the All-British Karate Association:

"Karate should be learned under proper instruction. It is a philosophy as much as a means of self-defense, so that the power it gives is used responsibly."

We could go on, and on, with quotes from the article, but we'd merely be all but repeating what we published almost two years ago. It was tough resisting, however, just one last swipe at karate this year, appropriate as it is for the Yuletide season.

LOCAL NOTES: Only one NFL football player, you may have noted, made the All-Central Coast squad of a certain San Francisco daily, he being South San Francisco's whirlwind halfback, Russ Cottrell. Guard Steve Nichols of El Camino made the second squad. Another El Camino griddler honored recently was Keith Falsarella, who was one of 21 Northern California prep players rewarded by the Northern California Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame for scholastic achievement along with athletic excellence. Jim Kauffman from nearby San Bruno (Capuchino) was also on the list.

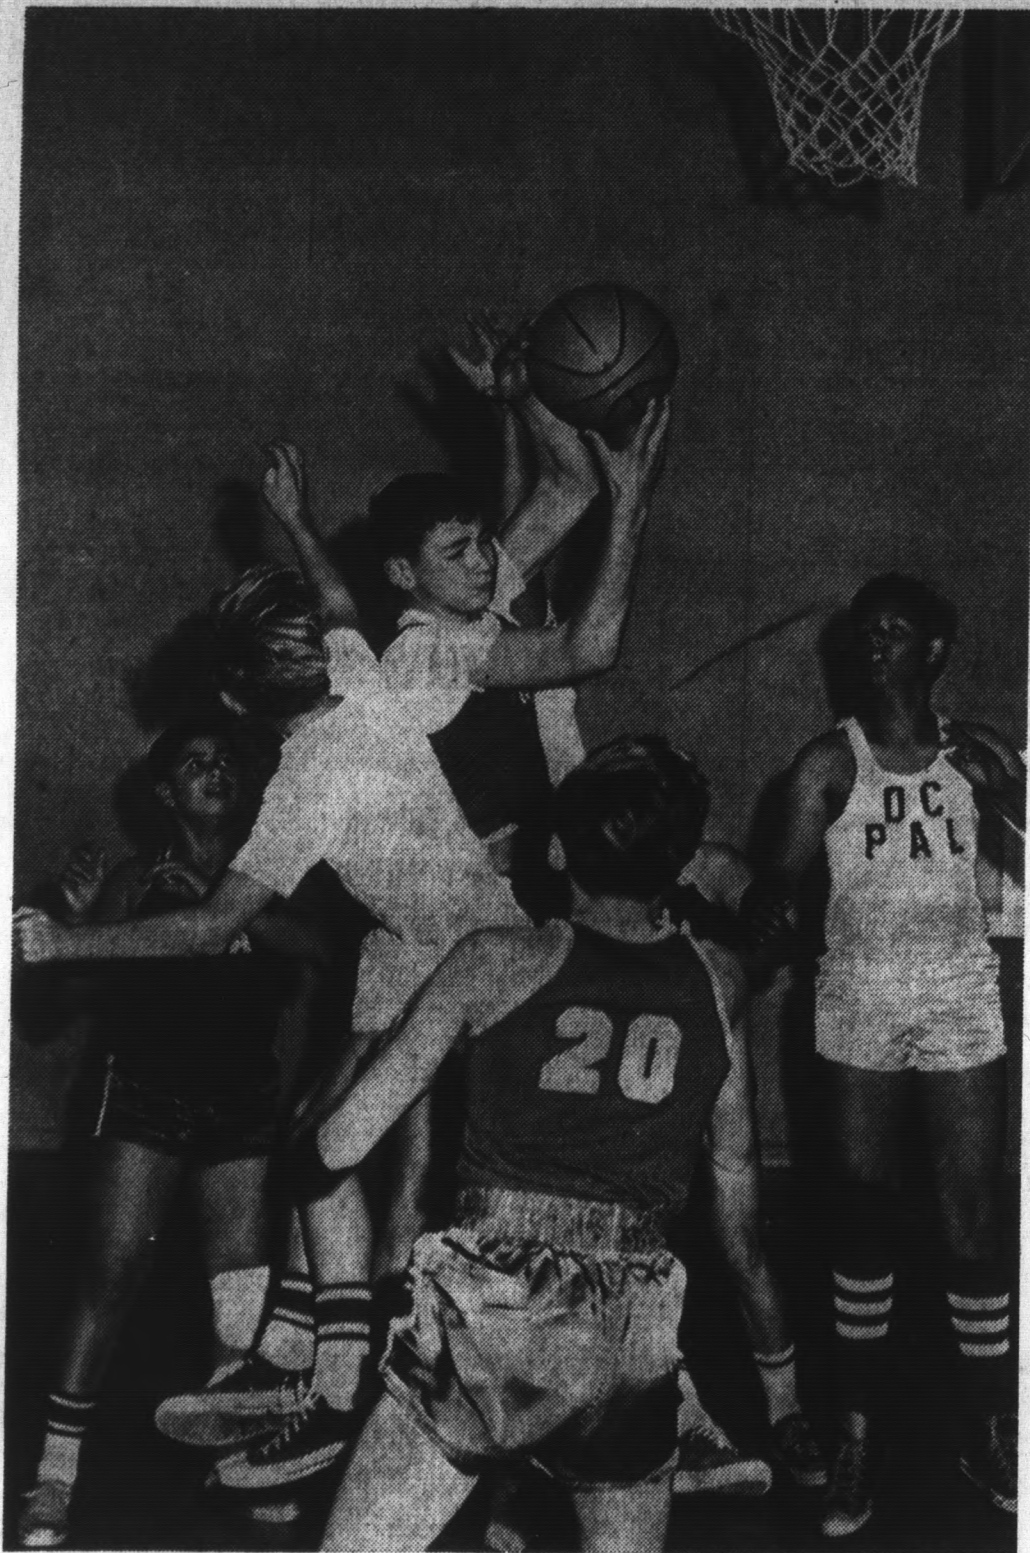

Mentioning Cottrell, incidentally, reminds us that in writing of an incident concerning former Warrior halfback Greg Jones last week we inadvertently called him "Doug," having in mind, evidently, the lightweightweight fighter. Sorry about that.

Continuing the stream-of-consciousness, writing of Doug Jones reminds us of one of our favorite fight theories. People are continually amazed that fighters such as Bobo Olson can go on for so many years without ever seemingly becoming "punchy."

The reason is very practical, if paradoxical. Take Olson, for instance. Aside from the fact that he's always in marvelous condition, which allows him to protect himself late in a fight, his china chin has been a large help.

In other words, if he gets hit solidly, he'll go out in a couple of punches, not taking a beating. The guys who get "punchy" are the ones who can take it, and who, as a result, continuously receive savage beatings on their feet.

HORACE STONEHAM must have halitosis. Last year the Giants offered the Cubs Orlando Cepeda for pitcher Dick Ellsworth, and Chicago didn't think it was enough. So just a couple of weeks ago they traded Ellsworth to the Phillies for Ray Culp, a sore-armed righty whose fastball has left him. The Giants reportedly would have given the Yankees either Ron Herbel or Jesus Alou, or both, for Roger Maris, but the Yanks instead traded him to St. Louis for Charley Smith, a much-traveled proven second stringer.

MORE THAN 300 area youths participated in the fifth annual Daly City Recreation Department Better Youth Association Christmas Tournament last weekend. Here members of the Holy Angels and Polytechnic teams vie for a basket in Saturday's action. (Post Photo by Bill Koska)

D.C., Park Merced PAL Teams Among Tourney Champs

The Daly City Recreation Department and the Better Youth Association combined forces last weekend to present the first annual Daly City Youth Christmas Basketball tournament.

Approximately 300 boys representing 32 teams from Daly City, Brisbane, South San Francisco, Park Merced and Novato participated in the two-day tournament.

In the fifth grade level, All Souls from South San Francisco won four straight games to take the championship in their division. Victims of the snappy All Souls five were: Calvary Cross (DC) 28-0, OLPH Orioles (DC) 9-6, St. Veronicas (SSF) 9-6 and 17-7.

St. Veronicas from South San Francisco took second place in the fifth grade division while the OLPH Orioles from Daly City walked away with third place awards.

The OLPH Falcons from Daly City defeated the BYA Four Barrel Carbs 16-11 to win the tournament championship in the sixth grade division.

The Falcons also defeated PAL Warriors (DC) 18-14, Calvary Cross (DC) 31-3, St. Veronicas (SSF) 27-19, OLM Hawks (DC) 19-15, and BYA (DC).

The BYA team won four tough games before losing the championship and walked away with second place medals while the OLM Hawks took the third place spot.

The PAL Mustangs from Daly City breezed through four straight games to win the seventh grade tournament championship as they defeated the OLPH Hawks (DC) 30-2, Brisbane Indians (Brisbane) 19-5, All Souls Wildcats (SSF) 17-5 and the PAL Pirates (DC) 23-11.

The Pirates nailed down second place while the All Souls team notched third place.

In the eighth grade division the Park Merced PAL Pistols breezed to a 48-33 win over the Brisbane Warriors to grab the championship. Earlier in the tournament the Pistols defeated the PAL Tigers (DC) 30-17, the OLM Hawks (DC) 17-13, and the Brisbane Warriors 27-24. Brisbane took second place in the tournament and third place awards went to the PAL Tigers.

Highlight of the day was the award presentation ceremonies. Acting Mayor Bud Lycett, City Attorney Al Polonsky and Recreation Commissioner Tony Aiello were present to commend the players and coaches for their fine performances.

Westmoor High School wrestlers continued their winning streak last week, taking two matches in as many days.

The Rams routed Montgomery High School 42-9 last Thursday, allowing their opponents only three wins, and retained their unbeaten record.

Dick Thill started the Rams' scoring, pinning Montgomery's Starfield in the first round. Paul Sanquintette pinned his opponent in less than 20 seconds, and Bob Morris followed up with a win over Montgomery's Abrahamson in less than 30 seconds.

The Rams' Junior Varsity team also held their opponents to three wins, beating the Montgomery JV's 44-15.

Wednesday, the Rams downed a powerful Sequoia High School team, 36-14, holding their opponents to four wins.

Westmoor won six consecutive weight classes from 112 to 145 pounds in the match, and Ken Barfield, Terry Nihil, Paul Sanquintette, Bob Morris and Steven McBride all pinned their opponents.

The Rams will meet Burlingame High January 1 in their next match.

DROP-INS 'ON'

The Oceana Co-Rec Drop-Ins will continue through the holidays, the Pacifica Department of Parks, Beaches and Recreation announced this week. They are held each Wednesday, 7-9 p.m., in the Oceana gymnasium, where volleyball, basketball and other recreation activities will be offered.

'Hall of Famers' Honor NPL Players

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

They came to be honored — 21 straight shouldered and clean-cut youths — and so they were at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco last week.

While proud parents and football coaches watched, Northern California's finest scholar-athletes were saluted by the Northern California Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Representing San Mateo

County were halfback Jimmy Kauffman from Capuchino High and lineman Keith Falsarella from El Camino High. The two youths, along with their 19 counterparts from nine other Bay Area counties, were awarded plaques by Hall of Fame members Tom Hamilton and Bob Herwig.

Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kauffman of Millbrae and Keith the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Falsarella of South San Francisco.

Jim Chasey, quarterback from Leigh High School in Campbell, was the recipient of the $1,000 Ned Brown Scholarship. The senior gridded possessed a 4.0 grade average, which is a straight A average. The latter was presented by Foundation President Ernie Nevers and Ned Brown.

Chancellor Roger Heyns of the University of California delivered the speech to the overflow crowd of 700, stressing the point of pursuit of excellence.

"Freedom and progress come out of order," Chancellor Heyns stated. "These rules of the game provide for the genuine enjoyment and genuine freedom in life," he added.

"The traits of a successful man are appreciation and respect for the individual and at the same time, appreciation and respect for the group," Heyns said. "This all leads towards the commitment to the pursuit of excellence," he concluded.

Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, one-time University of California coach, was congratulated for his induction into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in New York last week.

"It was the culmination of my lifetime," Waldorf replied.

The following are the list of youths honored:

Alameda County — Gary Andersen (Newark High) and Robert Goodhart Jr. (Pacific High); Contra Costa County — Craig Lusani (El Cerrito High) and Horace Catello (Pittsburg High); Marin County — Carl Gosner (St. Francis Drake High) and Roger Widmer (San Rafael High); Napa County — Jim Guidino (Napa High) and Dave Jones (Napa High); San Francisco County — James Harrison (Lincoln High) and Mike Nastari (Balboa High); San Mateo County — Keith Falsarella (El Camino High) and Jim Kauffman (Capuchino High); Santa Clara County — Don Baumheiner (Los Altos High) and Jim Guidino (Santa Cruz High); Santa Cruz County — Wes Beazley (Santa Cruz High) and David Billardello (Santa Cruz High); Solano County — Steven Lawrence Rood (Hogan High) and Paul Richard Cavigli (Rio Vista High); Sonoma County — Doug Norton (El Molino High) and Ray Borowicz (Healdsburg High).

D.C. Tournament

The fifth annual High School Basketball Tournament in Daly City got underway this week, with games at the War Memorial Building and the Westmoor High School Gym Monday and Tuesday nights.

Tonight and Thursday tournament continues with games beginning at 6 p.m. in the Westmoor gym.

The tournament will resume Monday after Christmas with the action beginning each day at 5 p.m. in the War Memorial Building. The championship playoff is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

First El Camino Tourney Highlight of Basketball

The First Annual El Camino High School Holiday Tournament highlighted the North Peninsula League basketball action last week, even though San Mateo High School of the Mid-Peninsula League walked away with top honors.

The visiting Bearcats defeated hosting El Camino 52-50 Saturday night in the final round of the two-day tournament, in spite of the good efforts of Bill McCourtie, 14 points, and Bill Godkin, 11.

Jefferson High preserved something of the NPL honor in the consolation game, defeating Crestmoor, 79-74.

Earlier in the week, Crestmoor beat Marin Catholic, 80-73, largely on the strength of Jerry Kollman's scoring (21 points) and Don Brogga's rebounds (22).

South San Francisco defeated Lick-Wilmerding, 73-51, and Oceanus squeaked by Menlo School, 69-67, on the scoring of Hoff (18) and rebounding of Charlie Nelson (18) and McCaughy (14).

Half Moon Bay, apparently headed for a basketball season comparable to the school's disastrous first year in NPL football, was soundly trounced by Holy Cross in a practice game.

Capuchino was defeated by a tall Balboa team in San Francisco, 73-63.

Westlake Bowl

Mixed leagues continue to produce the higher scores at Westlake. Last week Doug Hodgins topped the Ball & Chain Mixed Fives League with a 608 series on games of 209-167-232. Leading lady in the league was Hazel Scogen with a 200 game and 459 series.

Walter Turchen rolled a big 218 game and 579 series as he led the Lake Merced Handicap League.

Pins were falling Friday night as Andy Dermanich bowled a big 264 game and 635 series and Bruno Alpi took second honors with 216 and 603.

Our Junior 900 team continues to roll on, beating the Serra team two games last week. Cory Born topped the scoring with a 189 game and 565 series.

Duke Duchin converted the almost impossible 7-9 split last week in the 835 Scratch League. Ralph Arnott led the scoring with games of 177-222-196 for a 595 series.

LEADING lady in the Monday evening Ladies 850 Scratch League was Virginia Lund with games of 232-187 and 175 for a 594 series.

Tim Curtin posted a big 243 game and 614 series to top the 850 American Scratch League for the week.

More and more Westlakers are making reservations for the gala New Year's Eve Party. Westlake Bowl employees have tickets for sale.

Jerry Middleton and the "Bowling Mahoneys" topped the Saturday Mixed Singles. Jerry had a 222 game and 567 series while Bernice Mahoney rolled 179-476 while husband Bob had 201 and 544.

Betty Simon was the leading lady for the week in the B'nai B'rith Thursday morning league with a 209 game and 483 series.

Ray Spina and Les English were high for the week in the Southwest Handicap League. Ray had a 232 game and 609 series while Les had 216 and 600.

Westlake Bowlers extend their sincere condolences to John Guitilla on the death of his wife Rose.

ONE HUNDRED PINS separated the two leaders in the Mixed Up Fives as Thelma Daher had 469 and Rich Barbeta 569.

Both leaders in the Westlake Wedlock Mixed Fours bowled 207 high games with Ann Clifford leading the ladies with a 506 series while Hank Dosdorian led the men with a 579 series.

Tom McCue and Bob Henry both went over the 600 mark in the Southwest Handicap. Tom with 618 on games of 251-179 and 188 and Bob with games of 197-202 and 203 for 602.

Mat Results

Wesmoor, South San Francisco High and El Camino each won a wrestling match last week, maintaining their strong positions in area mat standings.

IDEAS FOR YOUR BEDROOM—PART II

We are devoting two columns last week's and this one — to ideas for decorating your bedroom.

The bedroom seems to be one of the most difficult rooms for people to decorate — and that's why we decided to use two columns instead of one. It enables us to pass along many interesting suggestions compiled by the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers.

As far as placing your bed, there's really no need anymore to use the old-hat formula of putting it unimagination in the center of the longest wall. A bed will often look more attractive — and be more convenient — in another location.

Place it flanked by a pair of narrow windows, or directly in front of a large window (with a graceful drapery arrangement or window frame serving in place of the headboard); or perhaps you can push it into a corner to create a pillow-decked, spacious reading nook for daytime.

You can eliminate bulky end tables on either side of the bed. Light, slender pedestal tables or inverted wicker baskets can serve beautifully in their stead — and have a fresh, fashionable look. Wall-hung light fixtures can replace large bedside lamps and such essentials as the alarm clock or ashtrays can be placed on a small shelf, mounted on the wall beside the bed, or even built into a multipurpose headboard.

These are just some of the ideas for solving bedroom decorating problems. If you'd like to see lots of ideas in bedroom furniture, we invite you to come in.

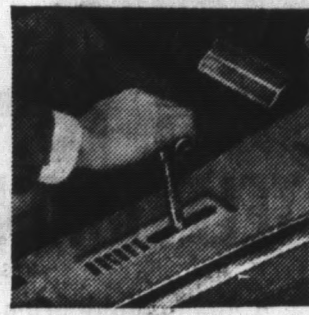

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience.

S.S.F. Youth Hurt in Cycle 'Trial Run'

A South San Francisco teenager was injured Sunday afternoon when he lost control of a motorcycle and struck the curb on Mayfair Street.

Jack Soto, 17, was treated for bruises and lacerations at Mary's Help Hospital and later released.

Soto, who borrowed the motorcycle from a friend for a "trial run," was not familiar with the bike, police said, and apparently misjudged his speed while attempting to make a "U" turn.

The accident occurred about 1:30 p.m.

Brief Reagan Visit Shook Penny's Calm

Penny Bird, a reservations clerk at the South San Francisco Holiday Inn, is still shook up over Governor-elect Ronald Reagan's brief stay at the hostelry three weeks ago.

No one was aware of Reagan's plans to conduct a meeting at the motel until an aide appeared at the desk 20 minutes before noon and asked "which is the governor's room," she said.

The room had been reserved the previous day for a "Mr. Smith."

"He came into the lobby and shook my hand and winked at me," Miss Bird said, "and now I haven't washed my hand in three weeks."

The post-election meeting lasted about two hours, and the new governor had lunch with his aides in the room.

Tosetti In Science Final

Semi-finalists chosen in the Bay Area Pilot Plan competition for the Fannie and John Hertz Engineering Scholarships include Richard Tosetti of Westmor High School.

As a semi-finalist, Richard, and fellow competitors will have two interviews with scientists before the final decision is made. The CEEB Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and financial need will also be used in determining finalists.

Richard, who is president of the Science Club and is on the Math Club Tutoring Team, is also a lifetime member of the California Scholarship Federation and a member of Westmor's student congress.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Tosetti of 879 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, Richard hopes to become an aeronautical engineer.

oline he was draining from a sports car was ignited by a water heater in the garage in the family home.

Tean Terry, son of the Edward Terrys of 1200 Seville, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Mary's Help Hospital.

A hospital source said young Terry suffered first, second and third degree burns on the lower back, legs and left arm.

A spokesman for the Pacifica Fire Department said Terry was draining gasoline from the gas tank of his father's car in the garage.

He was beneath the vehicle, about four feet from a gas water heater, when some gasoline spilled and ignited, the source explained.

The resulting fire destroyed the sports car, scorched the interior of the garage and the front of another car in the driveway of the house and slightly damaged.

Double reminder; the 2 ounces of food coloring is the correct amount and this is the reason for the color and texture of the red velvet cake.

THE "DRAT" DEPARTMENT: There were some typographical errors in last week's cookie recipes. Judging by the number of calls we received at the office, you gals caught them right away. Here are the corrections: in the recipe for Holiday Cookies, use 1½ cups powdered sugar. In Gumdrops Cookies . . . only ¼-cup evaporated milk is used. Chocolate Crackles . . . 4-squares unsweetened chocolate.

Sorry about that, good cooks! We really try awfully hard to keep out the mistakes. But sometimes they get by, and last week was one of those times.

Prime Rib-Blue Peacock Special New Year's Eve

Not many reservations are remaining for the Third Annual Blue Peacock New Year's Eve celebration — which is understandable. A prime rib dinner and unlimited drinks, added to bowling and billiards, plus live music and dancing, all go together to make up a whale of an evening for bringing in the New Year. Full price is $15 per person. Don't miss the fun — make your reservations now.

The banquet rush has really been something at Stickney's of San Mateo. Not only are the holiday parties coming along nicely, but many groups are making reservations way into 1967. Stickney's offers the ultimate in accommodations for any party occasion. Breakfast, lunch and dinner, plus food to go, are also Stickney features.

You can usually tell a great restaurant by its wine menu. L'Auberge, a favorite of the connoisseurs of superior vintages, offers no less than 76 wines. You can choose from four of the world's most illustrious imported champagnes.

Benjamin Franklin Merchants' Luncheon

Chef Robert Boyle, the Benjamin Franklin Hotel "wizard of the pots and pans," prepares one of the most outstanding buffet luncheons that your Bright Lighter's kitchen-wise eyes have viewed in many a year. Better yet, the food is just as appetizing as the display suggests. Take advantage of this gourmet spread during your Christmas shopping "off hours."

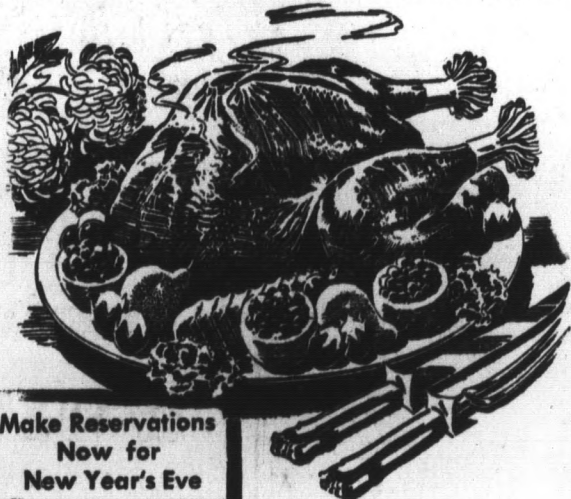

Frank Torres will keep his Montara Beach restaurant open for Christmas and New Year's Day, then he and his charming Mrs. will take off for a well-earned vacation in Peru. Keep an eye peeled for a picture of Frank and Fannie searching for Santa, in Bright Lights' next Friday Christmas edition.

Filet of Beef
Taste tip at the Cote D'Azur in Atherton: Filet of Beef en Croute du Nifernais, garnished with Artichokes Maison. The delectable dish for two persons is only $16.00 and is one of Owners Dan Biagi and Rene Canabou's biggest sellers.

Where can you go for a special prime rib dinner? The answer is neat and simple — Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City, where the hospitality of the owners and the staff is "return again" inviting.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

French Label Bourbon Villa Chartier Special

A SECOND FRENCH REVOLUTION IS TAKING PLACE ON THE Peninsula with the advent of Cyrus Noble Kentucky Bourbon with a French Label. This is the same bourbon which is being exported to France and for which the French have developed a decided taste. Now it is available, French accent and all, at such fine dining rooms as the Villa Chartier. Zut Allors Bourbon speaking French as she is spoken in Paire? In a manner of speaking, yes. Understand the Villa Chartier's manager, Norris Palmer, is now taking French lessons. . . One reason for the success of the Fior d'Italia in San Francisco, now in its eighty-first year, is its popularity with children, who are treated as adults. Many customers with grandchildren had their first dinner at the Fior.

Norris Palmer

With the mass discharge of college hippies from school, you can bet that Bill Hotmans Syndrome in Burlingame will be jumpin' during the holidays. Mr. Clean and The Uncalled-For, who are currently spotlighted here, are pleasers to young and old, alike. If you're not now a fan of Mr. Clean, you soon will be after you hear him play the saxophone.

One of the most entertaining shows in San Francisco is staged at Finocchio's. This Broadway club is jam packed nightly for each show with fun lovin' Bay Area people and visiting celebs.

To greet the beginning of another annum, both Peninsula residents and tourists are assured the finest in gourmet cuisine when dining in San Mateo's elegant Castaway restaurant at Coyote Point. Under the careful direction and supervision of General Manager George Triebelhorn, the restaurant offers its patrons an unsurpassed panoramic view from all sides.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

It seems to me we cannot face CHRISTMAS without serious thought of a PRAYER that each of us will strive to make this a better world.

I always say, "When God made America, God was smiling." That is why this beautiful land of ours has become almost a Garden of Eden. Our bounty is the only source of help, saving human lives throughout the world. Yet, with all the blessings that we enjoy here, our land has been filled with many malcontents whose sole objective is to break the moral and spiritual fiber of America.

We have been accused of being warmongers, yet the only time we have been involved in war was through our willingness to help others so we can live peacefully, side by side, with GOODWILL toward our fellowman.

PEACE is what all mankind seeks; but to have and enjoy with dignity the freedoms that go with PEACE, we must WORK and FIGHT wholeheartedly for it. Our efforts toward PEACE should be reaffirmed at CHRISTMAS as a token of FAITH in the PRINCE OF PEACE.

May all that is good and gracious be yours throughout the coming year, and may 1967 harbor VICTORY and PEACE.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

The Last Boutique

Louanne Heath

THE LAST BOUTIQUE has been held, the final holiday bake sale is over and the last glistening sugar crystal has been swept from the floor.

The decorations in shop windows are getting a bedraggled look which matches, almost perfectly, the faces of the salespeople who are beginning to feel harassed by the constant onslaught of desperate, last minute shoppers.

Christmas, the annual orgy of over-indulgence in almost everything, is just a few days away. In only hours now the stores will darken, the streets will empty and the tinsel will fairly crackle as childish impatience will almost electrify the air. Then the hush will be broken with screams and squalls of delight. (Isn't it amazing the way some kids, who never get up in time to be in school before the bell, always manage to awaken before dawn on that one magic morning of each year.)

Blessedly, Christmas day finally ends, the hush falls again as exhaustion overcomes the older generation and the wide-eyed children, almost simultaneously. This year tired parents will have one more day, hopefully a restful one, to gather their energies for that vast clean-up job that inevitably comes with the new year.

THE APEX has passed for the members of the Jewish faith and all the Chanukah parties are now over, the last bits of wrapping paper put away. Peace has returned to the festive households and the menorah and their eight symbolic candles have been wrapped and tucked away until next year's Festival of the Lights.

The members of the Senior Adults group at the Brotherhood Y Jewish community center will be meeting Friday to hear Dr. Leon Kolb, a retired doctor, author and art connoisseur, speaker on the subject of Israeli Art.

Dr. Kolb will illustrate his talk on some of Israel's greatest artists and her finest art treasures by showing some original item from his personal collection.

Persons interested in attending should contact Mrs. Suse Moyal, 921-3275, for more information.

MEMBERS OF BETA SIGMA chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International sorority meet on Saturday for their annual Christmas party.

The gathering was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lois Orent, the Chapter vice president, who sent special invitations to Mrs. Edward Kuehnhoff, Mrs. Edward Rubek, Mrs. James Chambers, Mrs. Donald Yates, Mrs. Ralph Divers, Mrs. Walter Miterman, Mrs. Cletus Hall, Mrs. Larry Ballentine, Mrs. E. J. Delaney, Mrs. Joyce Thompson and Mrs. Yvonne Carr. According to Mrs. Esther Hall, invitations were also forwarded to Miss Mary Edwards, Miss Mary Chenevey, and Miss Michele Yughes.

The party, which featured the revealing of secret sisters during a holiday gift exchange, was held at the Lazy Z.

THE DALY CITY musical contingent, The Belles 'n' Beaus, held a dinner-dance and Christmas party in the Palmer house on Saturday evening, and a cheerful group it was, too, for the new, adult education sponsored group had had a good deal to celebrate! The (Continued on Page 18)

Community Yule Bureau Runs 'Short'

The Community Christmas Bureau in Pacifica has run short of funds for a variety of needed items this year, a spokesman for the volunteer organization said today.

Promotions director Virginia Jaeger said children's jackets and underwear and special items for teen-agers are urgently needed.

All donations should be delivered to the bureau's headquarters at 60 Eureka Square, Pacifica, by Friday. Money orders or merchandise orders are preferred.

B'nai B'rith Women Planning 'Bingo Night'

The women of Skyline Chapter B'nai B'rith are making plans for a "Dinner and Bingo Night" to be held January 21 at the YMCA in Stonestown.

Mrs. Harry Gluckman, chairman, has announced that funds raised from the evening's affair will go to B'nai B'rith.

Edison P-TA Plans Movie

The Thomas Edison P-TA will present a color movie, "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," December 27, in the Thomas Edison multi-use room.

Doors will open at 12:30 p.m., and the 1½-hour-long movie will begin at 1 p.m. Admission will be 25 cents at the door, and popcorns will be sold for 10 cents.

MERINGUES

It's a good idea to use extra fine granulated sugar when you are making meringues.

SUMMER PIE

Combine strawberries with rhubarb and pineapple for a luscious summer pie.

Slide Program At B'nai B'rith

Seven Hills Chapter of B'nai B'rith women will hold its regular meeting December 28 at 8 p.m. at the Lake Merced Boathouse, Skyline Drive, San Francisco. The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of colorful, pictorial slides about the history of San Francisco by Mr. Casoly of Southern Pacific Railroad, courtesy of California Savings & Loan Company. All friends and members are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. For further information please contact Mrs. Harvey Moss.

membership continues to grow (baritone Al Hickman and tenor Bob Stewart are the two newest additions) and the musical contribution being made to the community has been warmly received.

According to word from Mrs. Doreen Marlow, editor of the Choral-Ears, the chorus's official newsletter, the Belles n' Beaus received a standing ovation when they presented their Christmas concert in the Marines Memorial Building.

IF YOU HAD YOUR MASK all ordered, your gown
all selected, and you were all set for a costume party, but then you didn't receive your invitation to Truman Capote's intimate little bash, don't despair, the good people at the Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church are completely prepared to furnish you with the opportunity to use your fancy attire!

The members of the Festival committee, under the guidance of Mrs. Victor Sariotti, New Year's party chairman, and Mrs. Albert Fambriani, Mrs. Frank Lawson and John Cresalia, are preparing a masquerade party for New Year's Eve.

According to Mrs. Joanne Moulton, publicity chairman, the evening will include a buffet dinner, horns and fancy favors and will be highlighted by the selection of a costume to be awarded the prize for the most original design.

Mrs. Robert Bell is creating the decorations and a Walt Tolleason orchestra will be on hand to provide the music.

Persons wishing to attend may reserve tickets, which are being sold for $15 per couple, by calling Mrs.
William Feeley and Mrs. Mary Lou Rickert, PL 5-7321 or PL 6-9648.

The fifth installation of officers and the Bethel choir for Bethel 348 of the International Order of Jobs Daughters was held on Saturday, December 17, in the Coast-side Temple in Pacifica.

Vickie Gacia was installed as the honored Queen,
Lesley Windhorst is her new senior princess and Sue Borras is now the junior princess. Other line officers include Linda Alexander the guide and Kris Paymiller the marshal.

The new appointive officers are Carol Sitts, chaplain; Mary Sitts, treasurer; Debbie Sandkulla, recorder; Diane Howell, musician; Sandra Windhorst, librarian; Debbie Ervin, senior custodian; Sandy Ervin, junior custodian; Kathy Paymiller, inner guard; Pat Schaefer, outer guard; Sandy Matthews, first messenger; Lisa Elliott, second messenger; Kris Kinney, fourth messenger, and Mary Sandkulla, fifth messenger.

Tracy Clodfelter is the assistant musician; Eva Kinney, assistant recorder; Karla Alexander, Pat
Banks, Jeannette Cook, Laura Hagins, Kathy Kneass, Donna Mothershed, Leigh Wilson, Joetta Worsham and Patty Worsham are members of the Bethel Choir.

Mrs. Sanford Marcus of Daly City was elected to the section committee of the San Francisco Section of the Golden Gate Council Camp Fire Girls during elections held earlier this month.

Mrs. Anthony Troia, publicity chairman for the section, reports that Mrs. Sanford will be serving on the committee with Mrs. Donald Haet, Mrs. Arthur Reese, Mrs. Henry Pierce, Mrs. Enrico Massagli, Mrs. Herbert
Lewin and Mrs. Troia.

Liberto Nathan was elected to his third term as chairman of the section. Other district officers include Mrs. Kenneth Terwilliger, Mrs. William Fairfield and Mrs. Wayne McCoy.

Mrs. Harry Konda, Mrs. George Seiffert and Mrs.
Philip Algeo received special commendations for outstanding service to the Golden Gate Council.

Recovering in Children's Hospital in San Francisco following surgery earlier this week, is Lester Candee of South San Francisco.

Candee, long a resident of Westlake, now resides in the Foxridge area.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

Gardeners in San Mateo Get a Lesson in Bonsai Pruning of Conifer Tree

By IVA NEWMAN

Since the opening of San Mateo's beautiful Japanese Garden in downtown Central Park, more and more home owners are requesting conifer trees pruned in the Japanese manner for their gardens. These trees are not generally available and when they are found the price is often prohibitive, so we called on the San Mateo Gardeners Association to help us show our readers how to prune and shape a regular pine to give it an Oriental appearance.

We offered our 15-year-old Scotch pine, growing in the half circle made by our driveway. This pine had been "pruned" each spring by pinching the "candles" at various lengths while they were still succulent enough for this job to be done with the thumb and forefinger. It was a dense, bushy plant that stood about 10 feet tall. The Japanese Garden has two of these Scotch pines approximately the same size which Sado Sugimoto, curator of the Garden has pruned as garden bonsai.

Sy Murakami, program chairman for the San Mateo Gardeners Association, arranged with Sugimoto to prune our tree as an educational demonstration for the members of his group. This organization keeps their members up-to-date on the new products and the new trends in gardening by regular educational programs. We arranged for Jim Irvine, Times photographer, to be present to take step-by-step picture of the pruning for Times' garden page readers.

October Best Time

The best time to do this type of pruning, according to Sugimoto, is October through January and he has been working overtime to get the trees in the Japanese Garden pruned during this period. "October is the best month, but trees respond well when the pruning is done in any one of the above months," Sugimoto explained. Our tree was pruned one Sunday morning shortly before our long rainy siege. The San Mateo Gardeners Association members showed up in mass with their equipment-filled trucks and passing motorists slowed to a crawl to watch the proceedings.

Sugimoto, with the help of a blackboard, a Black Pine in a five gallon container and a branch from a Monterey Pine, explained the general fundamentals of trimming conifer trees in the Japanese manner. He then carefully sized up the Scotch Pine and pointed out the branches that were important to the finished job and the actual cutting began. Members of the association's Bonsai group joined in to help with the initial clipping with the result the tree was pruned in one three-hour session.

The slow, careful job of removing a large portion of the leaves or needles, from the remaining branches was carefully demonstrated to the group and to me, as I was to do this time-consuming job. Sugimoto explained that the needles along the bottom and sides of each branch must be pulled off in the direction they were growing (if you jerk them off in a backwards motion in the manner a chicken is plucked there is danger of tearing the bark). The needles at the end of the branches are reduced by about half. The removal of the needles slows the growth of the tree and it also causes the new needles that emerge in the spring to be shorter thus giving the tree a neater appearance.

Our tree has a forked top. Usually this type of growth is corrected while the tree is still in a five gallon can but our tree, having such dense growth, it was not detected until this pruning. Sugimoto pruned the tree so the new growth will give the top a pompon look just as similar trees in Japan have.

We're All Decked Out for Christmas

A Wonderful Place to Do Your CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Margie McDevitt, San Andreas School student in Pacifica, is doing some Christmas wishing as she looks over realistically detailed interior of "Magnolia Mansion" dollhouse, displayed at Fairmont Shopping Center. Dollhouse was built by Pacifica Civil Air Patrol unit members and will be offered at December 23 youth benefit program. Built in Southern Plantation-type with pillared front, mansion is furnished completely, from crystal chandeliers that light to tiny dishes and silverware in sink and on tables. (Starr Photo)

Two Trustees Fear Influence Of S.F. State

A Laguna Salada Union School District trustee charged last week that the district is "too much under the influence of San Francisco State College."

Board member Dr. Charles Hauser, commenting on a recommendation that trustees retain San Francisco State College consultant Dr. Aubrey Haan to assist in interviewing applicants for the assistant superintendent's post in the district, said he "would prefer that we get someone else."

Dr. Hauser said he had in mind specifically a Stanford University education expert.

The trustee also said he was "disappointed that this man was practically hired and this thing put into action without the administration's consulting the board."

Trustee Dale Buettgenback joined Dr. Hauser in opposing the appointment of Dr. Haan. The vote was three to two in favor of hiring the recommended consultant. A theologian and teacher at an area Bible college.

Dr. Hauser, gave no reason for his opposition to the "San Francisco State College influence" in the district, other than the fact it is growing "too prominent."

Dr. Haan will assist interview teams from the district in selecting an assistant superintendent for instruction for the district from 16 applicants. He will be paid $75 per day, for a period of "three or four days."

Wild Chase On Coastside, Car Crashes

Two Pacifica police officers Dan McGee and Russell Yorke chased a sports car north on Skyline Boulevard at up to 85 miles an hour at about 12:30 last week, lost it and then to their amazement found it splattered all over the southbound lanes upon their return, its driver hitchhiking on north.

The officers told covering highway patrolmen they first saw the car at Hickey Boulevard and Gateway Drive as it U-turned and took off at a high rate of speed. Somehow they lost it at 85 miles an hour on a Skyline straightaway and turned around at Westmoor Avenue in Daly City, they stated.

Returning, they said they found the car had gone through the center divider fence, jumped a three-foot ditch there, and rolled onto its top in the middle of the five lanes, scattering glass and debris all along its 150-foot route.

The driver, Bernard Patrick McCabe, 24, of San Francisco, was found hitchhiking northbound across the highway, the officers said.

SSF Man Hurt in Crash

A South San Francisco man was injured in an automobile accident at the intersection of Crestwood Drive and Delores Way, police report.

Harold Holm, 211 A Chapman Avenue, was treated for bruises and lacerations and later released at Peninsula Hospital.

S.F. Man Dies On Skyline

A 28-year-old San Francisco municipal railway driver, Ronald Rogers, was killed at 5:30 p.m. last Thursday in a three-car collision on Skyline Boulevard near San Bruno.

Highway patrolmen said the victim was driving his small foreign car northbound when he crossed the center line for an undetermined reason.

The auto sideswiped a southbound sedan driven by Elinor Snortland, 25-year-old United Air Lines employee of 810 Polhemus Road, San Mateo, and then was hit broadside by an auto driven by Galen D. Potter, 51, of 590 Remillard Road, Hillsborough. Potter is vice president of H. S. Crocker Company.

The victim was thrown out of his car, which was demolished, and was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital.

'Near Miss,' Then Arrest

John Joseph Walsch, 50, 14 Alviso Court, Pacifica, was arrested on a drunk driving charge Sunday. Pacifica police said he was stopped at the San Pedro at Grand intersection at 10:30 p.m. He allegedly nearly collided with an oncoming car on the far left side of Grand.

Campaigns

Harrison Spent More—And Lost

Adolph C. Harrison, candidate for Congress, spent more in a losing cause than Robert St. Clair, the man who won his seat on the County Board of Supervisors, according to campaign expense declarations filed Wednesday in the office of County Clerk John A. Bruning.

Harrison, the incumbent, reported $12,326 in expenses, including $1,420 of his own money. St. Clair said his campaign cost $8,691, of which he contributed $341.

Other declarations filed yesterday: Mark Sullivan, unsuccessful candidate for Congress — spent $22,893, including $5,000 of own money.

Robert N. Miller, who lost in the 27th Assembly District — $15,294, including $411 of own money.

Marvin Church, who was elected county recorder — $2,822, including $414 of own money.

Robert Duffy, who lost to Church — $1,442, including $1,107 of own money.

Thomas F. Noonan, who lost in race for county assessor — $2,493, including $134 of own money.

Edward J. Kenney, loser in 26th Assembly District — $2,488, including $1,923 of own money.

Westmoor Food Classes Busy on Goody Bake

Westmoor High School's food classes have been busy since before Thanksgiving baking 5,000 cookies of 20 different varieties, and 40 breads of six different types, which, along with other goodies, will be served at this year's annual Christmas tea.

To be held today from 8:30 a.m. until 2 p.m., the tea is the yearly effort of Westmoor's Homemaking Department, with instructors Miss Margaret Becker, Mrs. Susan Bass, and Miss Joan Jacopi organizing and planning the affair.

Parents, children, faculty members, and people of the community are invited to spend part of their date at the Christmas tea.

Besides food there will be a holiday atmosphere, since the room will be decorated with the Christmas projects of home-making students.

Students in advanced foods classes made their Christmas project out of food, creating such things as cookie castles and candy or popcorn houses.

A 12-layered cotton and stro-foam cake decorated with cookies connoting the 12 days of Christmas and a hand-executed partridge on the top was one of the dominant projects of two advanced foods students.

These, combined with the decorations of the other homemaking students will make the room "look like a fairyland."

S.S.F. Probes Boxcar Fire

South San Francisco firemen are attempting to learn the cause of a fire that Tuesday damaged a railroad boxcar and the roof of the General Services Administration building.

A fire department spokesman said the blaze started in the boxcar, which had contained paper bags. It already had been unloaded, but still contained excess cardboard, lumber and paper, used between layers of the bags.

The fire "licked out" of the boxcar and caught the roof of the concrete-sided building. Fire units were at the scene from 4:25 p.m. to 7:28 p.m.

Panos Wins Dealership

Gus Panos, veteran Peninsula auto dealer and owner of Peter Pan Motors, 698 El Camino Real, South San Francisco, has been appointed the official Peninsula dealer for the 1967 Glas 1700 GT, he announced today.

The Glas 1700 GT is manufactured in Dingolfing, Bavaria. It features an in-line four-cylinder, front-mounted engine with overhead camshaft, dual fuel pumps, dual carburetors and semi-fuel engine. It has a number of built-in safety features including disc brakes; gas tank mounted ahead of the rear impact safety zone; front wheels positioned back of the front impact zone, collapsible steering wheel and safety harness. Its makers say the 1700 c.c. engine will develop 115 horsepower, do 118 mph, and move out to 60 mph in 10.5 seconds.

Outwardly the car vaguely resembles the Porsche, Fiat or Kharrmann Ghia. Peter Pan Motors is already dealer for Chrysler Imports — Simca, Hillman, Alpine, Tiger.

NO MEETINGS

Weekly J-Teen Club meetings in Pacifica will not be held during the holidays. The Park, Beach and Recreation Department in Pacifica said.

Walking Wig In San Bruno

A woman walked into the Cinderella Beauty salon on San Mateo Avenue in San Bruno Wednesday, selected a hairpiece.

After it had been set, she put it on, and said she had to get the money for it out of her car.

Police are looking for a woman with light brown hair. That's the color of the wig that went with the woman who never came back.

A Gardener's Letter to Santa Claus

By IVA NEWMAN

Gardeners may not actually write letters to Santa Claus but if they did, I am sure they would voice a plea for gifts that would let them benefit from the many findings of agricultural researchers. They would also include requests for the one hundred and one staple items that always seem to be in such short supply when they are most needed.

Tops, I believe, on every gardener's list to Santa would be a "Merchandise Order" from one of the Peninsula's many fine young nurseries. With one of these in hand, a gardener may satisfy a yearning so secret that he has never dared to voice it. Or, he could hold it against the time when Spring arrives and garden needs play havoc with a budget geared to the need of food for the family but none for the plants in the garden.

Of course, if the family works together in the garden they will know the items that are really wanted for they share a common interest. We know some families that include a Christmas gift to the garden in their budget and shop together for the plant or tool they want under the tree on December 25th and in the garden throughout the year.

One of the facts that research scientists have released is the needs of plants for specific plant food such as nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, iron and etc. in an available form in the root area of the soil. They have also told us that phosphorus, the plant food needed for cell division and cell wall construction in a plant as well for root development, and flower and seed production, moves only about one-quarter of an inch a year in the soil. Thus, phosphorus, applied to the soil surface would not reach the root zone for several years. Many rosarians and other dedicated gardeners have resorted to punching holes in the soil around the dripline of their prized plants and filling the holes with superphosphate (20 per cent) or bonemeal in an effort to satisfy the plant's need for phosphorus in the root area. This year a new garden gadget, made especially for the root feeding of roses, shrubs, trees and young transplants, was sent to us to try. Called the Ross root feeder, this gadget has a chamber at the top of a hollow, pointed rod for the fertilizer. It is connected to an ordinary garden hose which flushes the water over the fertilizer cartridges, down the rod, and out small holes near the tip. All the gardener needs to do is push the rod into the soil to the depth he wants the fertilizer, turn on the water by turning the valve at the top of the feeder for the amount of time suggested in the directions that come with the plant food cartridges.

This gadget was first recommended to us by our friend Frederic Huette, Superintendent of Parks, Norfolk, Virginia. He used it at his home and for more prized plants in the Norfolk Botanical Garden which was also under his care. The cartridges, with full instructions for use, are available for regular plant and tree feeding and also for treating acid-loving plants in an alkali soil and plants showing an iron deficiency. A special complete plant food containing iron chelate is available for roses. Like Frederic Huette we find this gadget does an excellent job in a very short time with a minimum amount of labor.

Good Tools Increase Interest
Good garden tools increase interest in gardening because they take much of the hard labor out of regular garden chores. We have several large oak trees on our place plus a number of other trees that need to be thinned and pruned at regular intervals. A regular, curved pruning saw is a must for every garden and it should be clean and sharp. If his present pruning saw has been left out in the rain or is rusty and dull, surprise him with a new one. If you have trees, get him one of the tree saws with a long aluminum handle so he won't have to get the ladder out each time the wind breaks a limb. And, if you get him one of those "bow" saw campers use, you'll find the branches cut up for use in the fireplace instead of being thrown in the trash for the pickup men to cart away.

Every gardener and home needs a good, sturdy, lightweight ladder. Give your old wooden ladder to Goodwill and supply your home and garden with one of the good new aluminum ladders that make climbing so much safer. Don't make the mistake of getting one too short, even the six and seven footers are so light a child can carry them. The lady of the house would appreciate this gift when she has to reach something on the top shelf of the cupboard or change a globe in a ceiling fixture.

One of the toughest jobs in gardening is spraying because it must be done with a good deal of regularity. We use a sprayer for ridding the garden of insect pests, such as ants and earwigs, and for keeping pests and diseases off our plants and we use one for keeping the garden free of weeds. If the gardener in your life only has one sprayer, get him another as weed killer should not be used in the sprayer used for spraying insecticides and fungicides on plants. And while you are at it get him a supply of leather washers so he will always have a replacement on hand should the one on the sprayer become too dry to work properly.

Many of the hose-type sprayers are excellent but do get one that holds at least enough chemicals for six gallons of diluted spray. Nothing is more frustrating than having to stop in the middle of a job to mix and refill a sprayer when that job consists of only one or two plants. Of course, these six gallon jobs can be used for a one or two gallon job.

Good Shears
Good garden shears can't beat for an acceptable gift for a gardener or flower arranger. They may have four or five pair but they frequently misuse them until the blade is nicked or it doesn't slice smoothly because the blades are sprung due to someone trying to cut too large a branch for the size of the shears. Many plants get a serious case of "dieback" from poor shears. Don't buy cheap shears as they are a waste of money. Keep in mind that you get only the quality you are willing to pay for.

Every garden needs at least two types of shears; one the regular hand shear such as is used for cutting flowers. The favorite of professionals, is the forged shear with a fine steel cutting edge and a thicker hook that works with a scissor-like cutting action. We prefer these with an aluminum frame as they are so much lighter weight. You might include a small can of oil and an emery stone or fine sand file as shears need to be kept very sharp. The second sized shear should be in the lopper class for branches over a half-inch in diameter, and up to an inch and a half. One of the newer lopping shears has a power slot that lets you shift to a wider opening when needed.

Rakes, hoes, spades and shovels wear out and get their handles broken. If it is a broken handle and your gardener is a handy man put a new handle under the tree, but if he is a busy weekend gardener buy him a new one. We would suggest one of the lighter weight spades for the average home gardener as a man or a woman that does only a little spading will find a heavy tool quite tiring. The heavy tools are made for men who must do some spading every day. Every gardener and home owner needs an assortment of rakes, one, the regular steel toothed rake, two, a small replica of the above for raking in narrow places; and three, a large and small bamboo rake. One year we gave all the ladies at a party one of the small bamboo rakes and the men complained that they didn't get one of these very useful garden tools.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California, furnished by Marine Exchange, Inc., from Coast and Geodetic Survey Data. Half Moon Bay tide 2 hours and 10 minutes earlier.

The column of heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey Chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart "U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey."

Fog Blamed For Delaying Four Trains

An unidentified driver accidentally drove his car onto Southern Pacific railroad tracks and became stuck early last Thursday in South/San Francisco, causing four commute trains to be delayed for about 20 minutes.

The car's driver said he was unable to see the tracks under the Bayshore Freeway overpass in that North County city, due to a heavy fog which enveloped the Bay Area Wednesday and early Thursday.

His car was removed by a South San Francisco towing service. He was not injured.

Dense fog also caused temporary closing of the Oakland and San Francisco airports.

With visibility near zero, the Oakland airport was closed for several hours, while the San Francisco International Airport was cleared for landings after 30 minutes.

Two San Francisco flights were forced to turn back to Los Angeles.

S.S.F. Project Is Delayed by Rains

As predicted last summer by contractors, progress on the Stonegate Ridge development in South San Francisco is lagging several months at this stage because of delays in the first phases of development and the interference of winter rains.

A spokesman for Lowrie Paving Company, contractors on trenches for sewer and storm drains of the Sign Hill development, said installation of electric, water and telephone service has been held up "to some extent by the delay in completion of our portion of the project."

The company's officials predicted last July the trenches would not be completed before the winter rains unless sub-surface blasting was utilized to fracture rock. The trenches were not completed until mid-October.

In a classic case of what even the contractors admit is "the people's will being done," South San Francisco councilmen refused to issue a permit for the blasting after a large group of homeowners in the area expressed their opposition.

When initial plans for the development were approved in 1962, residents of Park Avenue Heights obtained a promise from the council that there would be "no blasting whatsoever" in the area.

Engineers agreed to the stipulation at the time, and stated that no blasting would be necessary.

It was later discovered that Sign Hill has a sub-strata of solid rock in many places.

Contractors then returned to the council and requested the blasting permit, which they said would be necessary if the project was to be completed "in a reasonable length of time," and which would be "in the best interest of everyone concerned."

Members of the Park Avenue Height Association re-entered the discussion, and reminded Mayor Frank Bertucelli and councilmen of their earlier collective promise regarding the use of explosives in the neighborhood.

Several meetings were held on the matter during the following weeks. Contractors offered a considerable body of professional opinion supporting their claims the blasting would be harmless and neighboring residents would "hardly notice it," but to no avail.

The mayor and council acted as "gentlemen of their word," as urged by the homeowners as
